

Anzac Day in NYC 2018

BY ANGELA TOHL | MARCH 27, 2018

This year Anzac Day falls on Wednesday April 25, 2018. Anzac Day is a national day of remembrance for Australian and New Zealand servicemen and servicewomen who served in all wars to defend their country. For Aussies and New Zealanders far from home in New York, we can come together to pay our respects and commemorate Anzac Day in NYC at these events:

Brownies and Bubbly at Coco & Cru

At the bright and airy Aussie-inspired cafe, Coco & Cru, owner Adam Elzer will offer all parties complimentary Brownies & Bubbly all day. One complimentary glass of Prosecco will be offered to each guest at the restaurant. A complimentary oversized, house-made chocolate fudge brownie with whipped cream and fresh berries, perfect for sharing with the family, will be offered for dessert.

Venue: Coco & Cru, 643 Broadway, Manhattan
